HUMBOLT COUNTY ITEMS.

The following items are clipped from the Uniouville Silver State, of May 3: Years ago a cave was discovered in the limestone formation of the Hambott Range, in Star District. It has never been thoroughly explored, though seve-ral parties have entered it and made par-ticl evaluations, extending ral parties have entered it and made par-tial explorations, extending, in one in-stance, a half mile from its mouth into the mountain. We understand that ore was discovered in the cave this Spring, and that a party of four or five miners intend to thoroughly explore and pros-pect it from one end to the other, and are going prepared to remain under ground a day or two if necessary for bet nurpose.

Wm Bailey, who went on a visit to old England last November, returned with his family on last Monday. He had secured passage on the steamer Atlantic recently wrecked off the coast of Nowa Scotia, but on the evening previous to me sailing of that vessel he met an old Novada friend with whom he took several "smiles"—in fact, got on a drunk and missed sailing on the ill-fated Atlantic. He attributes his escape from a watery grave to the exhibitanting properties of London porter. matery grave to the car ties of London porter.

We are credibly informed that the Rye Patch Company are about to build a twenty-stamp mill for the reduction of ore from the Butte mine. Within the has two weeks extensive deposits of ore have been developed in the mine for the reduction of which the Company's mill is entirely inadequate.

Very rich ore was struck in the Hen-

City Rivaley.—A case now pending in the St. Louis courts gives an amusing illustration of the bitter rivalry between the merchants of St. Louis and Chicago. the merchants of St. Louis and Chicago. In the former city there is a hardware dealer who has been doing a large business in the sale of steel buggy springs at two dollars a pair. A Chicago firm, also engaged in the hardware line, flooded the region around St. Louis with circulars offering to sell the same article at $1.25 a pair. The St. Louis man at once began purchasing his springs of the Chicago firm, who, it is claimed, were selling their goods for less than cost to entire their goods for less than cost to entic St. Louis trade to Chicago, and the sold them to his customers at a hand some profit. The Chicago man, encouraged by the demand for springs from St. Louis, made a futher reduction in prices, Louis, made a futher reduction in prices, offering them at $1 a pair, when the $t. Louis man telegraphed an order for 2,000 pairs, at the same time sending a draft to pay for them. By this time the Chicago firm began to be suspicious, and refused to send the goods; but one of the firm, being in St. Louis shortly afterward, was sued for a breach of contract, damages being laid at $5,000. The St. Louis journals are joyful over this capdamages being faid at $5,000. The St. Louis journals are joyful over this cap-ture of one of the Philistines, and exul-tingly call attention to the fact that the public enemy must defend the suit in their own courts, which of course they consider infinitely more houest than these of Chicago. those of Chicago.

A MAN in the dress of a workman was A ax in the dress of a workman was lately walking in the streets of Berlin with a packet in his hand, sealed and inscribed with an address, and a note that it contained one hundred thalers in treasuruy bills. As the bearer appeared to be at a loss, he was accested by a passer-by, who asked him what he was looking for. The simple countryman placed the packet in the inquirer's hands, and requested that he would read the address. The renly was made with an accessful. The reply was made with an agreeeable surprise. "Why, this letter is for me! 1 surprise. "Why, this letter is for me! have been expecting it for a long while!" The messenger upon this demanded ten thalers for the carriag of the packet, which was readily paid, with a liberal which was readily paid, with a liberal which was readily paid, with a liberal which was readily paid. addition to the porter. The new possessor of the packet hastened to an obscure orner to examine his prize, but, on teaking the seal, found nothing but a sw sheets of paper, on which was an a choicest of everything to be had in the market. few sheets of paper, on which was writ-ten " Dona!"

FLIRTATIONS OF MARRIED WOMEN. - The FLIRTATIONS OF MARRIED WOMEN.—The innocent firstation of married women is one of the abominations of modern society. Even a desire for promiscous admiration is wrong in a wife. The love of one, and his approval should be all that she ought to desire. Let her be ever so beautiful, it is a disgusting and appauling sight to see her decorating that beauty for public gaze; to see her seeking the attention of senseless fops around, and rejoicing in the admiration of other cyes than those of her husband. Her beauty should be for him alone, and not for the gaze of those that flutter Her beauty should be for him alone, and not for the gaze of those that flutter around her. There is always among the sedate and wise a sensation of disgust when a married lady attempts to ensuare or entrap young men by a profuse display of her charms, or an unlicensed outsy of her smiles. Such charms and such smiles are loathsome to the indifferent beholder; and the trail of the serpent is over them. pent is over them.

THE cerebro spinal desense amon horses is causing a great deal of trouble to stable-keeper in the East and other owners of horses. It especially attacks to stable-keeper in the East and other owners of horses. It especially stacks those which had an imperfect recovery from the spizootic, and which seem in consequence peculiarly liable to attacks of all kinds of diseases. In the first stages of the desease, the animals become paralyzed in the hind legs, and have to be supported by slings, while those which are apparently convalescent, will often burst a blood vessel and die of hemorrhage after being exercised. The street railroads have suffered considerably from this cause, the South Boston line having lost twenty or thirty horses, and having fifty sick now. It is thought most of them are convalescent.

A MAN in Portsmouth, N. H., having been missing for some weeks, to the great alarm of his friends, snaddenly came home, and being asked where he had been, merely replied, "Darned if I know." He should do as did Salt Williams, of Detroit, who, having been on a three days' bender in New York, strolled into an intelligence office and asked, "I sthis an intelligence office?" "Yes," said the keeper, "What'a, your fee?" inquired Salt; and upon being informed, he threw down a dollar. "Well," asked the proprietor, "what information do you want?" I want you to tell me, "stuttered Salt, "where the d—I I've been for the last three days."

Turns is no outward sign of politeness which has not a deep moral reason. True education teaches both the sign and the reason. Behavior is a mirror in which svery one shows his own image. There is a politeness of the heart akin to love, from which springs the earnest politeness of outward behavior.
